'Decision Forthcoming' Hearing Held On Booth Location

by Adoree Shortle
Echo staff writer

"We have been told by the federal highway department that there is not room to build turnoffs to a hospitality booth at a site between Pearl River and Highway 607, and we can only do what the federal highway department will allow us to do."

So said W. J. Crechink, Jr., assistant chief engineer for the Miss. State Highway Department at a Tuesday night meeting in Bay St. Louis.

Approximately 50 persons attended the hearing in the county court house called by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce with highway department officials over location of a hospitality booth in Hancock County.

More than a year ago a group of local merchants, fearing the demise of Gulf Coast tourist traffic on completion of Interstate 10 in West Mississippi, began pressing state officials for a hospitality booth West of Highway 607 to divert traffic from I-10 to Highway 90 as a scenic route for East-West traffic. Cities on the entire Gulf Coast from Waveland to Mobile could benefit from such action, the group maintained.

The Tuesday night hearing came as a result of highway department plans, published in the Sea Coast Echo several weeks ago, to construct a rest and recreation area including a hospitality station near Highway 603, about 10 miles east of the Mississippi-Louisiana border.

Appearing from the Highway Department were Kim Sutherland, Public Affairs manager; E. L. Boteler, Highway Dept. director; John Smuggs, Roadside Development manager and Crechink. Representing the Miss. Agricultural and Industrial Board was Perry Nations, Travel and Tourism director. Several highway department engineers also were on hand for the meeting.

Consternation developed among listeners as Smuggs and Nations described the attractions of the facility planned at the 603 location. The consensus of those speaking in favor of the Pearl River-607 site was that the highway department had formed a pre conceived decision to build the facility on the south side of I-10 near Highway 603.

More than 14 Hancock Countyans appealed to the board for a change in location, representing as well as the Chamber, the county board of supervisors, the City of Waveland and the Rotary Club and the Tourism Action Committee.

The 603 location, they all agreed, was not only topographically unfeasible but would cause any potential tourists or visitors to the Gulf Coast to miss the two main attractions in West Hancock County, the Nasa test site and Buccaneer Park, a water recreation project now under development by the state. Another drawback cited was the fact that motorists diverted to the coast via 603 would be traveling a two-lane, twisting highway already proven dangerous, rather than the four-lane Highway 607.

State Senator Martin Smith told the state officials that if more funding was needed to build the hospitality booth west of Highway 607 he was confident that state legislators would accept an amendment in the January session to provide necessary state funds.

Smith urged consideration of the Nasa-Mississippi Test Facility and state-owned Buccaneer Park on the Waveland beach as valuable tourist attractions in the county.

"If travelers are allowed to go eight to ten miles past the 607 turnoff, they won't want to backtrack that distance to see anything," Smith maintained. He also noted that the several million dollars of planned development expenditures at the Park should be another reason to divert tourist traffic to the coast.

Smuggs' earlier statement that water features and existing vegetation at the 603 site will make it "one of the most

Model Project Task Force Seeks Conference On Contract

Members of the Older Americans Area Wide Model Project Task Force at a special meeting in the Mississippi Power Building in Gulfport Friday voted to confront the Mississippi Council on Aging to discuss the awarding of the Area Wide Model Project's administrative contract and to seek some official and public redress for the program's former administrators.

Approximately 12 members of the Task Force and other interested persons attended Friday's meeting and expressed shock and dismay over the recent firing of Mrs. Gwen Gollotte, Coast coordinator of the AMPWA, by Lee Newcomb, director of the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District which administers the program from Hattiesburg.

Prior to the motion calling for the confrontation, Al Rushing, chairman of the Task Force, "regrettably" recommended to the Task Force that serious consideration be given to a resolution requesting all governing bodies (cities and counties) to withhold all funds and in-kind services from the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District beginning June 1, 1973, until the Area Wide Model Project is placed in the hands of a local agency.

"The local agency supervision would result in more funds for our elderly people and would therefore provide services that they so richly deserve and are entitled to receive," Rushing said.

Rushing's recommendation was first put into the motion by Task Force member Henry Ware, but later amendments struck the phrase calling for a withholding of funds.

Representatives of both the Harrison and Hancock County supervisors told the Task Force that they would meet within the coming week to reconsider the awarding of the contract. They did not mention whether any action would follow on the withholding of funds from the District.

Long Beach Alderman Robert E. Peno told the Task Force he was opposed to the cutting off of funds but that there was a need for strong action.

George Lofton, former bookkeeper for the Project, said he understood the concern of the Task Force but urged them not to be afraid to take drastic action.

Lofton said he resigned his position in November "because of the amount of time it took to get checks and invoices

Teachers Accused Of Beating Students

by Adoree Shortle
Echo staff writer

Hancock County school board trustees are investigating a protest from mothers of Gulfview Elementary School students over alleged beatings of students by teachers.

A letter, written in mid-April and signed by five mothers, charges that their children "were beaten to the point that they had black, blue and green . . . stick welts (sic) across their thighs . . . and lower part of the back."

In the letter the mothers accuse fifth grade teachers Norbert Tracy and Henry Witcher of the acts, which the teachers said were committed as necessary disciplinary measures.

Mrs. Beverly Ortiz, Bayside Park resident and mother of seven, said the first incident came in February when Tracy "beat my son, Vincente, Jr. with a stick in the classroom in front of the entire class." Feeling that the 13-year-old boy had been unjustifiably injured, Mrs. Ortiz took him to Justice of the Peace Lee Klein where she signed an affidavit against the teacher.

Within the following month, Mrs. Ortiz charged that six different boys at the school were similarly beaten with a stick and badly bruised. In the letter which was addressed to the state superintendent of education and a copy sent to the Echo and Hancock County School Board President Horace Davis, Mrs. Ortiz described conversations with School Superintendent Kenneth McCarty, Gulfview Principal Louis Ladner and Tracy about the situation.

She quoted McCarty as saying "that's just what these little 9 and 12-year-old punks need and it's good for them." The principal and Tracy, who is a fifth grade history teacher, both told her that students would be beaten any time they felt it necessary, Mrs. Ortiz claimed.

In early April, by direction of the District Attorney, the matter was referred to the jurisdiction of the county juvenile authorities where Mr. and Mrs. Santiago (whose 12-year-old son had also been beaten) and Mr. and Mrs. Ortiz signed affidavits bringing charges under the state Child Battering Act. No action has been taken by the Juvenile Court to date, Mrs. Ortiz stated.

Receiving no satisfactory response from school authorities regarding some assurance against future beatings, Mrs. Ortiz brought the matter before the county school board.

At that time, Board President Davis assured her that the board was in receipt of her letter and that the situation was under investigation by the body.

Mrs. Ortiz received a letter, dated April 17, from Frank Lovell, assistant state superintendent of education, who advised that such matters should be directed to local school administrators. Enclosed was a copy of another letter from Lovell to McCarty confirming knowledge of the situation and referring the matter to the county level.

On April 13, Davis wrote Mrs. Ortiz, " . . . your letter has brought to my attention a situation I did not know existed. You have my word that I will look into this matter and take whatever action is necessary to safeguard the future welfare of your children."

Davis' letter was also addressed to the five mothers who signed the original letter of complaint - Mrs. Willie A. Santiago, Mrs. Betty J. Ladner, Mrs. S. C. Ladner and Mrs. H.T. Dastugue, Sr.

Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Ortiz again went to Gulfview School and conferred with the principal on a disciplinary matter involving their seven-year-old son, a first-grader.

Mr. Ladner, she alleged, was insulting and abusive and told the boy's parents to "get out of this school and don't come back." He reiterated an earlier suggestion that Mr. and Mrs. Ortiz take their children out of the school system, she stated.

Their 13-year-old, Vincente, has not attended school since the first whipping incident in February, his mother affirmed.

Schools Required To Offer Classes To Trainable Students

School districts in Mississippi are now required to provide classes for trainable retarded children as the result of a bill passed by the state legislature during the 1973 session.

House bill 74 stipulates that "properly interested persons or agencies, or the parents or guardians of five (5) or more of any one (1) type of exceptional children, or of types which may be taught together, (may) petition the board of trustees of the district for a special class or classes."

Both the Bay St. Louis-Waveland Separate Municipal School District and the Hancock County School District conduct classes for educable retarded children but trainable children have been attending the special school organized by the Hancock County Association for Retarded Children.

As a result of the bill, however, the Association has taken steps to close its school this month and will make application to place the ten students in local school systems, five in the city district and five in the county district.

"The members of the Association are very happy to be getting out of the school business," Mrs. Anita D. Lamb, president of the Association, said in an interview with The Sea Coast Echo Tuesday.

"These students should be taught WITHIN a school system," she emphasized.

Mrs. Lamb told the Echo that the Association would continue to serve as a supportive agency and will act as a PTA-type organization for the students.

The Association was organized in 1961 by interested Hancock County citizens and has operated a school for retarded children for 11 years.

POLITICAL RALLY

The Bay St. Louis Jaycees will sponsor a political rally and fish fry Friday beginning at 5 p.m. at Com-magere Park. All candidates have been invited and the public is urged to attend.

TASK FORCE ACTS - Al Rushing, chairman of the Older Americans Area Wide Model Project Task Force, "regrettably" recommended to members Friday that serious consideration be given a resolution requesting all governing bodies to withhold funds from the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District. The Task Force rejected his recommendation and agreed instead to seek a meeting with the Mississippi Council on Aging to discuss the awarding of the Model Project's administrative contract. Seated in background are Task Force officers Fred Fisher, Mrs. Arnette Giles, and Archbishop Philip Hearn.

Hancock County Soil Surveys Scheduled

The Gulf Regional Planning Commission and the Soil Conservation Service Monday signed an agreement to prepare soil surveys for about 60,000 acres in Hancock County. The information is to be used in a study report on the impact of Interstate Highway 10 to be undertaken by the Commission.

The study area includes the portion of the county outside the MTF buffer zone from the intersection of Mississippi 43-607 to a point west of Waveland.

In June, the Commission will initiate an investigation of the impact of the opening of I-10 on the coastal counties. The investigation will include potential changes in development patterns, shifts in commercial activities, and changes in land-uses in general. Findings will be of use to developers, financial institutions, and businesses in general.

The information developed will be made available to the Hancock County Planning Commission for use in possible revision to existing subdivision regulations, and for incorporation into county zoning. The project is being undertaken at no additional cost to the County, as a part of the continuing comprehensive planning program of the Commission.

John A. Scafide
MAYOR

Tuesday, May 8th

The most dependable and accurate method generally used in predicting what a man will do in the future, is to closely examine what he has done in the past. I am seeking this office and soliciting your vote on the strength of my past record.

During the four terms I served as your mayor, the city of Bay St. Louis experienced its most rapid and greatest period of growth; from the small town level, it grew to the status of a progressive, modern little city.

Some examples of this growth and progress are; equalization of real property assessments by a professional consulting firm; adoption of a comprehensive zoning plan, with plumbing, electrical and building codes; recodification of antiquated city ordinances into a modern bound form; provided finances for construction of a new $1,000,000 Senior High school and a 1/2 million dollar elementary school; constructed a complete sanitary sewage collection and treatment system; a new and modern water works system and many others.

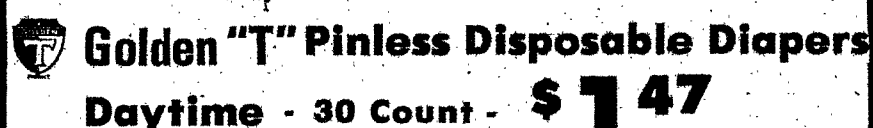

I elect the only candidate who has demonstrated and proven his ability to get the job done; one who has during his previous administrations, worked in harmony and unity with his fellow commissioners.

Hoffman-Campion Vows Exchanged

Base Chapel Two, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, Michigan, was the setting for the recent afternoon wedding of Lt. Mary Faith Campion, USAF, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Campion, Farrar Street, Waveland, and Lt. Joel Thomas Hoffman, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hoffman, of Zumbrota, Minnesota.

Vows were exchanged during a nuptial mass celebrated by the Reverend Terrence W. Gress of Buffalo, New York, uncle and godfather of the bride. The altar was decorated with gold baskets of white, pink and lavender gladioli. Lector of the mass was Lt. Vincent Bogdanaki of K. I. Sawyer AFB. At the Offertory, gifts were carried to the altar by the parents of the bride and groom.

Miss Gerry Giovanni, organist and soloist, presented a program of wedding music, including the traditional and also "Love Story", "What Are You Doing the Rest of Your Life," and the "Wedding Song."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a peasant type gown of sheer white barred dimity, with square neck, empire bodice and Queen Anne sleeves trimmed with white cotton lace, threaded with lavender ribbon. The skirt was full, three-tiered, edged in lavender satin ribbon. A large white straw picture hat, circled with lavender satin ribbon completed her ensemble. Her only jewelry was her great-grandmother's amethyst and pearl lavalliere on a silver chain. She carried a fan-shaped wicker basket of white carnations, with miniature lavender mums, baby's breath and ivy with white lace streamers.

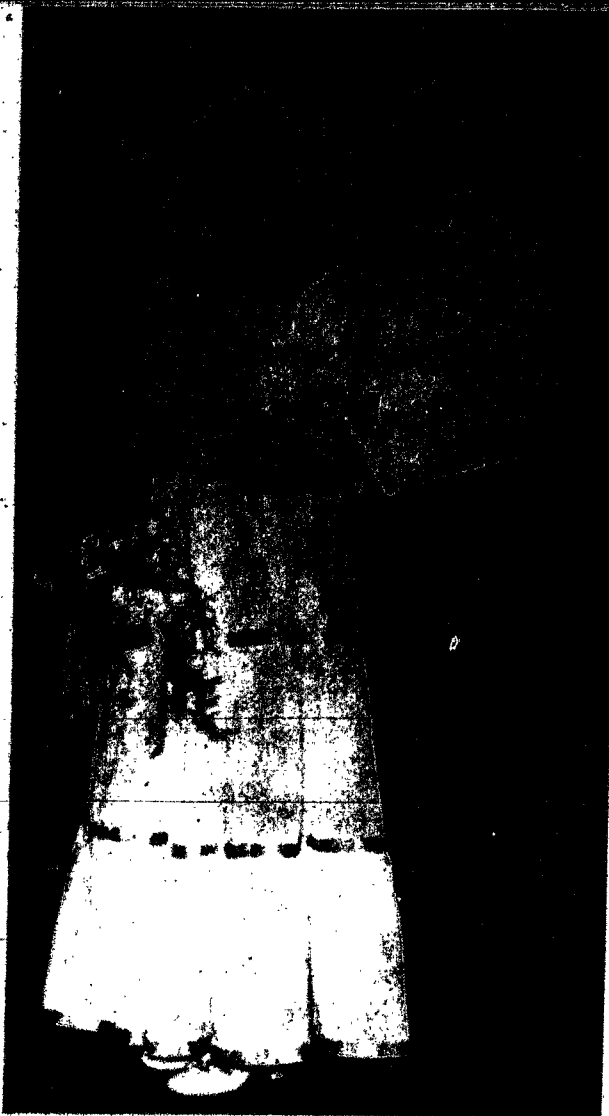

Mrs. George R. Convery, of Lewiston, New York, was matron of honor, in pink chiffon over polyester, puffed Queen Anne sleeves, empire bodice and high neck trimmed in matching tulle. Miss R. Michael Cave of Hattiesburg, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, was similarly gowned in lavender chiffon. They carried baskets of pink, white and lavender miniature carnations, baby's breath and fern, and wore matching flower clips in their hair.

Captain Thomas Kiesel of Grand Forks, N.D. served as best man. Randy Hoffman, brother of the groom of Zumbrota, Minn. was groomsmen. Lt. James Boatwright of Columbia, S.C. ushered.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents held a reception at the Base Officer's Club. The refreshment table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated in white and with violet flowers around each tier, topped by a gold Chi Rho. Upon their return from a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will reside at Lake Haven Estates, Little Lake, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hoffman, of Zumbrota, Minn. hosted the rehearsal dinner on Friday evening preceding the wedding at the Officer's Club, honoring their son and his fiancée. Present were members of the families, attendants, and out-of-town guests. Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Jones of Traverse City, Michigan, cousins of the bride, were among the guests.

Take A Look At Hospitals

In 1921, leaders in the health care field established a National Hospital Day to encourage public appreciation of the people working in hospitals. The day chosen was May 12, the birthday of hospital pioneer, Florence Nightingale. By 1963, the day was expanded to National Hospital Week, recognizing the tremendous growth in hospital services in this country.

The theme of National Hospital Week 1973, sponsored statewide by the Mississippi Hospital Association and celebrated by the State's 128 hospitals in their local communities, is "Your Hospital...A Caring Community...Your Health...Our Common Concern."

With mounting public concern about the effectiveness of our health care system and the rising costs of health care, our hospitals are being subjected to some sharp criticism and demands for change.

While in sympathy with the demands of the public for improvements in the delivery and quality of health care, and for containment of health care costs, we suggest that National Hospital Week is an appropriate time to express our appreciation to the more than 25,000 people working in our Mississippi hospitals.

Not so long ago, our first hospitals were simple shelters where people went to die. Today, they are complex healing, educational research institutions, where lives are saved, the causes and cure of disease sought, and future health professionals educated and trained.

Hospital employees represent an incredible diversity of skills and talents, working in some 200 different types of jobs, ranging from housekeepers to top level administrators, from plant engineers to registered nurses. However, they have one goal in common: a working life dedicated to caring for the ill and injured. Modern technology and rapid scientific advances have made possible saving of lives and prevention of curing of disease. But the human hands and hearts are still essential to the healing arts.

During National Hospital Week 1973, we salute the hands and hearts in our hospitals whose concern is our health.

A Good Laugh-- For A Good Cause

It's good to laugh. Especially these days when it's hard to find something to laugh about. So when you can spend two hours in solid, side-splitting, rollicking laughter and at the same time contribute to a worthy cause, you realize that you've experienced something of value.

Not enough people attended the American Cancer Society sponsored Ms. Sippi All American Beauty Pageant Friday night at St. Joseph's gym. Those who did can only feel sorry for those who didn't because the spectacle of 34 men, dressed as beauty contestants and frolicking on the stage aping (and we use the term advisedly) the endless beauty pageants we've been watching for years was an experience not to be forgotten.

It was loose and very ad lib, but it never got out of hand. It was broad humor and at times bawdy, but never in bad taste. There were as many children of all ages in the audience as adults and it's a good thing for children to see their Dads being very human--and very funny.

The success of the show was due in large part to the obvious fact that the "contestants" had as much fun as the audience and the judges and that says a lot for those men, all of whom are ordinarily conservative businessmen. They are to be applauded by their community as well as by Friday night's audience.

In our estimation, they were all winners.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

A few weeks ago, a newscaster on a New Orleans television station lambasted with bitter words a newspaper writer who had dared to refer to a television set as "the boob tube". Where did he get off, the T.V. announcer said in effect, by derogating a device which brought so much pleasure and entertainment to so many millions of people?

Easy, boys, easy! As the politicians say, let's look at the record. First off, no one can deny that millions of people watch television--but whether they enjoy it or not is the debatable question. Some do; among these undoubtedly are the networks and T.V. stations, the merchants and manufacturers, the advertising agencies and other hangers-on who gain enormous profits from the "art". Then there are those people who like anything, no matter how intrinsically bad it is, that kills time, and those who enjoy any sounds that don't make them think.

But some don't like it, and among the things they object to are, first, the commercials which they must sit and look at, no matter how blatant or phony they are--and this is no small matter, for much of the viewing time is taken up by commercials. Recently we watched the programs of a leading New Orleans T.V. station from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. and counted the commercials:

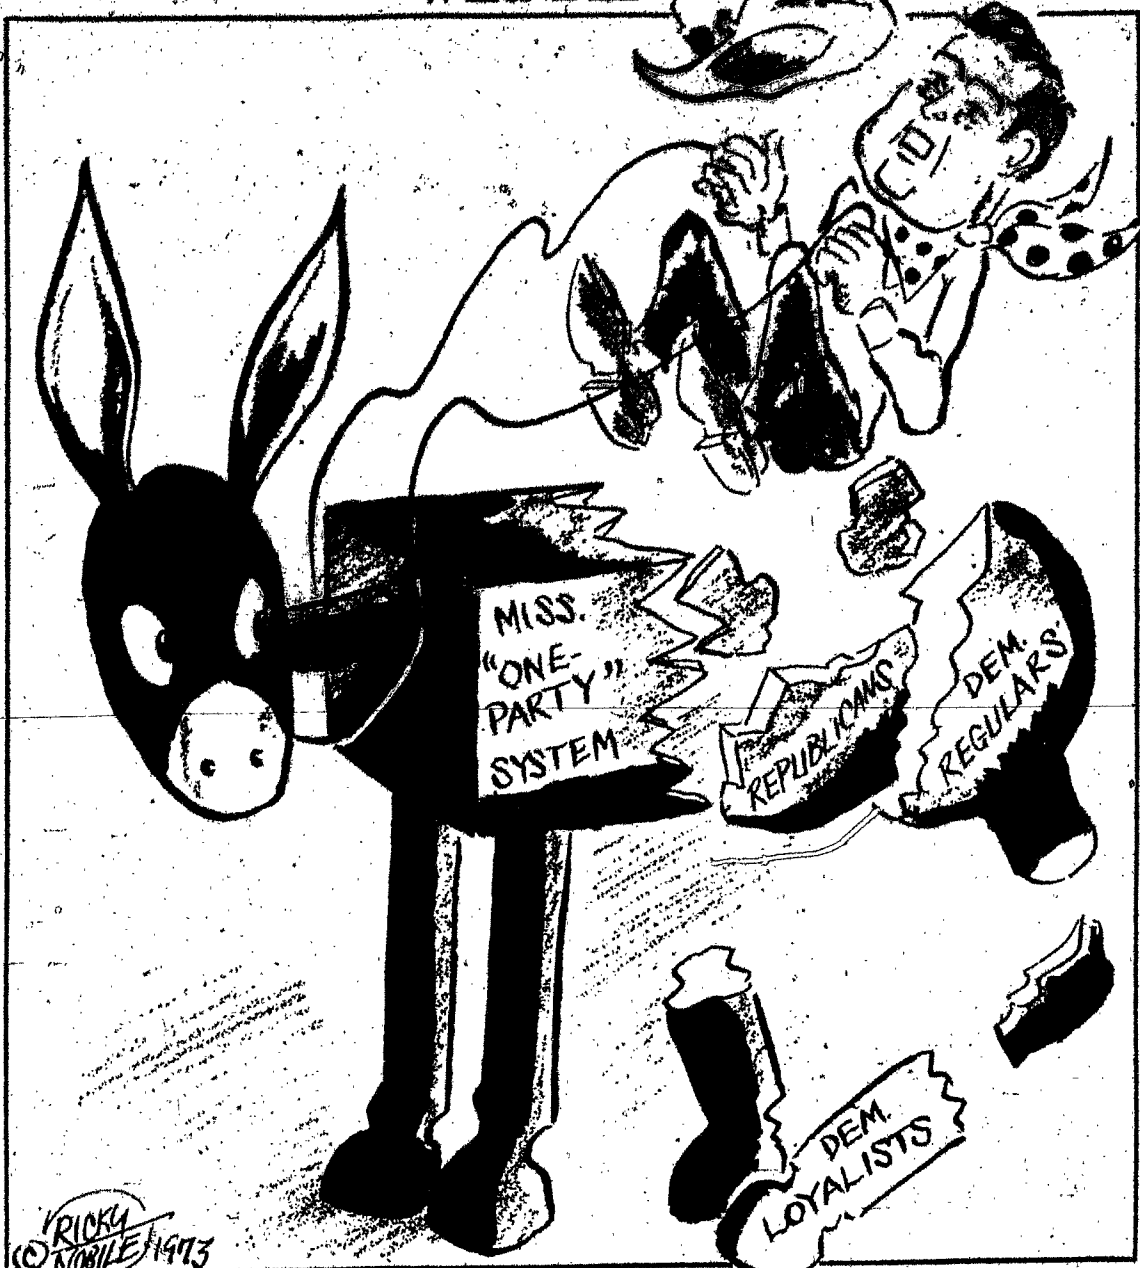

there were exactly 87 of them in the four-hour period. That's about 22 per hour, or roughly one every three minutes--though often they came in bunches of as many as five in a row.

Television formerly was hailed as a great educator that would broaden the mind, stimulate thinking, and make viewers familiar with sights and sounds in all parts of the world and universe. Of the programs we saw the other night, three were about crime, involved and bloody violence, as improbable as finding a million dollars in a trash can, in which at least six people died. This is education!

So we and thousands of other people spent the evening with gobs of nonsense and scores of commercial "messages", and at the end of it we thought again of the T.V. announcer and his castigation of the newspaper man who called T.V. the "boob tube". And it occurred to us that T.V. isn't to blame for the stupid programs and the myriad of nauseating commercials that come into our homes--WE ARE! How many of you have ever protested to the stations or networks--or more important, to the FCC--against this flood of rubbish?

We get--not what we want, but what we deserve. The "boob tube" is the proper name for it--the newspaper man was right!

Social Security Information

Young people should apply for their social security cards several weeks before they'll need a social security number for their first job, according to Joseph D. Alfonso, social security representative in Gulfport. "They can apply at any social security office," he said.

An application for a social security card is generally screened against files at the national record center in Baltimore to make sure no other social security number has been previously issued to the same person. "This screening can take time," Mr. Alfonso said, "but it's important to keep your social security record straight."

A young worker builds disability, survivors, retirement, and Medicare protection for himself and his family by work and earnings credited to his social security number.

"A worker should show his employer his social security card so his name and social security number can be correctly copied for the employer's records," Mr. Alfonso said. "You should never give your employer your social security number from memory."

"Your social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life," Mr. Alfonso said.

The social security card stub or a record of the social security number should always be kept in a safe place, according to Mr. Alfonso. "If you lose the social security card you carry in your purse or wallet, you can get a duplicate faster if you have the stub or a record of your number," he said.

Chamber Report

By Sylvia McComiskey
Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Manager

The Chamber would like to take this opportunity to thank the Board of Supervisors, the city of Waveland's representative, and the many citizens of the county for their attendance and interest in the Mississippi State Highway Department's Public Hearing April 26. The decision on the location of the Hospitality Booth for Hancock County has not been made public as of yet, but the interest of the people in the future of their county is a self-evident fact for anyone who attended the hearing. Thank you to everyone who attended.

The Distributive Education and Trade and Industry students of Bay Senior High held an Employer Appreciation Banquet Monday at Haverly's Restaurant in Waveland. These young people planned and financed this dinner and their poise and enthusiasm was very refreshing. It was a most enjoyable evening and the Chamber of Commerce is proud to be a participant in this program.

Sunday, May 6 is the start of National Hospital Week and Hancock General Hospital is getting prepared for their observance. There will be displays set up by various health-oriented organizations of the County and each day will be designated for a different area of hospital specialties, nursing, board of directors, etc. There is much that can be learned from attending these various functions and we should all become more knowledgeable of the workings of our hospital. Participate.

Saturday, April 28 was the Grand Opening of Taconi's Hardware located on Highway 90 near Dunbar Ave. Taconi's is open from 7 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday and carries a complete line of hardware, paints, electrical, plumbing, household and gardening supplies. Several brands of lawn mowers are also offered. We wish Mr. R. A. Taconi, owner, a successful and prosperous future in this venture.

UREA FOR NITROGEN

Under most conditions urea is just as satisfactory as a source of nitrogen as any other source. It has given good results when applied after June 1st on summer pastures. Summer applications of granular urea on permanent pastures have been just as good as ammonium nitrate.

Slight nitrogen losses in urea occur when it is applied in early spring to summer permanent pastures. Any urea gives good results when applied just before a good rain, when irrigated after application or any time it is put into the soil.

CLEAN MILK

You produce milk to sell and for milk to sell, it must be clean, and of high quality. To produce this kind of milk you need:

Clean cows. Clean flanks, udders and teats are essential. Remove any dirt particles from udder and teats by proper washing and drying of the udder. Use approved Iodophor solution for washing. After washing and drying the udder, use the strip cup before attaching the milking machine. This aids in detecting abnormal milk and removes the first stream of milk, which is high in bacteria.

You must have clean, sterilized utensils. Immediately after use rinse thoroughly in tap water. Wash in warm detergent solution, rinse thoroughly, store in a clean, protected area. Sanitize before re-using with a 50 ppm chlorine solution.

In straining milk, use only an approved, single service strainer. Cool milk promptly. Fresh milk stored for 24 hours at 50 degrees F. has more than 100 times as high a bacteria count than milk stored 24 hours at 50 degrees F. The only way to keep the bacteria count low is immediate and proper cooling.

LAND PREPARATION

Due to lateness of the season, some form of minimum tillage will likely be advantageous. What system you use will depend on the condition of the land as to looseness, whether it is rutted and moisture conditions. Other factors to consider are machinery available and soil type.

Any method of land preparation should accomplish two things--get rid of weeds and form a bed suitable for planting. Three good tools to use are the pulverizing disc, disc harrows and spring tooth chisel plows.

A simple method of minimum tillage legislature studied the problem and passed legislation permitting location in Louisiana if necessary, but the Highway Commission seems to be ignoring the will and intention of the legislature.

We would be better off with the Tourism Information Center at all than at the location proposed. It will take business away from the Hancock County tourist industry.

Sincerely,
Wm. Q. Lachar

TUESDAY

Our Readers Write

Dear Sir:

The North Bay Elementary Schools Special Education classes wishes to take this opportunity to graciously thank several people and local organizations throughout our city for their efforts and assistance over the year.

The first board of thanks goes to the principal of the school, Billy Sills. His efforts alone kept the banner of Special Education flying high over this school year.

Special thanks goes to: Bay St. Louis School Board, for the uniforms; North Bay's P.T.A., financial assistance; Junior Auxiliary, for financial assistance; Doctors Rutherford, Leveson, Dedson, and McFarland, for performing the physical examination for the Special Olympics; and The Sea Coast Echo, for the publicity and coverage.

We know there are other who deserve recognition and we would like to say thanks to you also. The teachers, aides and other personnel deeply say THANK YOU.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Anne Bennett Ladner
Mr. Donald James Robinson

Gentlemen:

If the Mississippi Highway Commission gets away with their scheme to locate the Tourism Information Center for east-bound traffic in Devil's Swamp between 607 and 608, it is going to cost Hancock County tourism millions of dollars in lost business in the future. The Center needs to go west of the turn-off at 607, even if it has to go in the Louisiana Honey Island section. The where there are weeds to destroy would be to hip up, follow with the disc, replant to form planting bed, apply preplant herbicide with rolling cultivator, do-all, triple K and plant.

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ACT

Farmers who employ one or more persons, full or part-time, are definitely covered under the Occupational Safety and Health Act. The law applies to every employer engaged in a business that affects commerce. Household domestics and farm family workers are excluded from the record-keeping coverage under the Act.

The farmer who employs labor is responsible for furnishing work and work places free from recognized hazards.

Four OSHA standards set for agriculture include the SMV emblem, anhydrous ammonia handling, pulpwood logging and bousing in labor camps.

The Slow Moving Vehicle Emblem must be used on all slow moving (Under 25 mph) machinery operated on public roads by an employee.

Employers must also keep records on occupational accidents and sicknesses. Farmers employing less than eight people are exempt from the record-keeping.

ECONOMICS OF BEEF PRODUCTION

It would pay off in big dividends to spend a little more money on fertilizer and management of pastures. Economists say that making your pastures good enough to support one cow per acre will return more than twice as much net profit as using three acres per cow.

FOREST MANAGEMENT

Letting nature take care of needs of timber management is just not enough when you consider today's demands for timber products.

Nature's way would probably be O.K. if we did not need lumber to build bridges, homes, furniture, railroads, boxes, poles, crates, and paper products for books, newspaper, packaging, cleaning tissue, grocery bags and many other uses.

For maximum usable production from a forest, we need management assistance from man.

The growth of forest timber products on most of our forest land is only one-third to one-half of what we could be producing with just a little management. Almost half of our forest area is covered with oild trees or undesirable species.

If a preferred species of tree is in the woods and is being suppressed by undesirable species or weed tree, then all that is needed is to remove the weed tree. If the preferred species is not already there, then we are going to have to plant it.

Right now, the time, money and labor spent in removing the preferred trees will pay greater dividends than any other one practice.

Home Air Needs Attention Too!

There has been a great deal written about the need for adding humidity to the air inside homes when the temperatures outside fall below freezing. Most people must know by now the air in their homes can be dryer than Death Valley, and what that does to furniture, the house itself and even skin and other living tissues.

While the concept of needing a humidifier has been widely discussed and accepted, not much has been said about how to care for one after it gets in the home. It should be cleaned regularly, and the filter changed not less than every other year.

One of the primary considerations in the choice of a humidifier should be how easy it is to clean, and whether the filter can be changed with little effort - even by a housewife.

There are units now on the market that can be completely disassembled for cleaning and changing the filter in less than a minute, without any tools! All the models in the new Sunbeam line are designed in this manner.

The console top simply lifts off. The filter is hung on hooks inside the shell or body. With the top off and filter unhooked, the water tank slides out the back. If service is required for the fan or motor, they can be removed from the console top, but simple tools are needed for that. The advantage in that feature is the ease of taking those parts in for service, should it ever be required.

Features such as automatic humidistat controls; signal lights; a choice of a single or two-speed motor, and wood-like styling to blend with your furniture are choices in Sunbeam's five-unit line, and these are important in the unit you eventually choose.

But think ease of cleaning and filter changing when shopping for a humidifier, whatever brands you look at.

Following the business session Mrs. Maurice George will conduct a workshop on making styrofoam owls. All members are asked to attend.

BOOTH LOCATION...

beautiful in the state", was contested by Norton Haas, Sr. and Perry Gibson each of whom informed the hearing board that the site "was a swamp" and constantly inundated by water.

Gibson said, "During the rainy season that area is a big bog. . . . I don't think you can put enough fill to ever make it safe."

Gibson also challenged Crecink's earlier remark that federal engineers had vetoed the requested 607 site as too short to build turnoff lanes to the booth. According to federal engineers, at least 2,000 feet are needed for turnoffs and a "weaving area" for cars crossing traffic lanes to the exit and entering lanes. The proximity of the truck weighing scales to the only spot the booth could be built, Crecink explained, would cause another hazard of large truck traffic.

To which Gibson bluntly answered, "You're blowing smoke with the engineers' excuse about the turnoffs. If a big truck can come off that bridge and turn safely into the scales, I don't believe that you can't engineer a few cars into a rest stop!"

Nicholas Haas, local attorney and member of the Chamber board, remarked that "tonight is the first time we've heard that it was unfeasible engineering-wise to locate the booth at the Pearl River-607 junction. We HAVE been told it was because it couldn't go in the (NASA-MTF) buffer zone."

"The highway department wants to keep people on the highway," Haas said, "but we want to get them off." He referred to a Chamber of Commerce resolution in favor of the 607 site, saying "we feel this is the best jumping off place to the Coast to attract tourist dollars."

Among others speaking for the 607 location were: —Waveland Alderman Dan Campton, who proffered a resolution from his board, saying, "There's no point in reading this now as it's obvious that the decision has already been made for 603." Campton went on record, representing the city, as preferring no booth at all rather than one at 603, reasoning that increased traffic on the highway would be too dangerous.

—Dixon Ashman, Waveland businessman, who said that since the opening of I-10 East of 607, business has dropped off 50 percent at his Highway 90 motel and at other highway business places. If the hospitality station can't be moved Ashman asked for large highway signs West of 607 designating Highway 90 a scenic route.

—Perry Gibson, a Mississippi Power Co. executive and Chamber director, reminded the officials of legislation which helped to move a booth scheduled for I-20 at Vicksburg into Louisiana for the same reason.

—Highway 90 restaurant owner August Scalfid suggested that the state department conduct a feasibility study before finalizing plans for the location of the booth, saying that he had discussed the problem with U.S. Senators John Stennis and James Eastland and former Congressman Wm. Colmer who were sympathetic and recommended the study.

—County Board of Supervisors President Alton A. Kellar, who stated that a year ago a highway department engineer whose name he wouldn't divulge told the board that the matter of the hospitality booth location was already settled.

"We (the board) will go on record at our next meeting as being strongly opposed to this action by the highway department," Kellar concluded angrily.

Botelor reiterated several times, in answer to accusations that the booth location was already decided, that it was not and the purpose of the hearing was to consider locations other than at 603.

The location of the rest and recreation facility on I-10 at Highway 603 is definite, he stressed, as that is a highway dept. development, but locations and operation of hospitality stations come under the state A&I Board. The final decision for location of all such facilities is predicated on federal highway dept. rulings, he further explained.

However, Botelor continued, "It is very improbable, actually highly unlikely, that a hospitality booth can be built west of 607 and east of Pearl River. I get the impression from remarks tonight that the sentiment is if the booth can't go by 607 you'd rather have it delayed or not built at all."

A lengthy exchange then developed between Botelor, Crecink and several members of the audience over outside influences in the highway department's decisions.

Tommy Kidd, Waveland businessman and owner of a chain of seafood restaurants in Miss., said he had been told by Jackson Balch, executive director of NASA-MTF that, "he would never permit the hospitality booth to be located at the site on 607."

Kidd inferred by further questions that Balch had influenced the negative decision, although Botelor, Crecink and Nations denied any contact with Balch.

Chamber President E. J. Marengo interrogated the hearing board on who would make the final decision for erection of the booth, asking if Highway Commissioner Shag Pyron had expressed any prior opinions on the matter. Botelor answered to his knowledge Pyron had not. Marengo said Pyron had been personally requested to attend the hearing but had apparently not honored the request.

At various points in the discussion, Crecink admitted that a "diamond" turnoff for the booth at 607 would be as feasible as that which will be built at the 603 site, and Botelor agreed on questioning by Delmar Wilcox that the 607 location would be of greater value to divert tourist traffic than at any other spot.

Kellar pointed out a correlation between the state department's decision made two days prior to Tuesday's meeting to locate a booth south of Poycune on Highway 59, to the situation in Hancock County. The distance between junctions on Highway 59 is about the same as that between Pearl River and 607, Kellar maintained; still the Hwy 59 site was approved.

At the conclusion of the three-hour hearing, Sutherland told the gathering that a Board of the highway commissioners would consider the taped transcript of the meeting and a decision would be forthcoming shortly.

because "it was a mandate." Rushing said Kerr did not tell him who issued the mandate.

Rushing termed the firing of Mrs. Gollette and Mrs. Dunnaway as "irresponsible and inexcusable."

He said Newcomb told him at a luncheon meeting that he fired Mrs. Gollette for reasons of not being loyal and not capable of handling the job. Asked by Rushing why he did not fire her a long time ago, Newcomb said, "I just didn't have the guts."

Rushing said he told Newcomb he did not want the contract let to anyone or renewed until the Task Force had the opportunity to review the proposed contract and budget.

He said Newcomb informed him that that was none of his business.

Rushing said he learned soon after that time that Newcomb or one of his representatives had gotten the Board of Supervisors of Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties to pass a resolution desiring the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District to be awarded the contract for another year. This was done prior to the firing of Mrs. Gollette and Mrs. Dunnaway, Rushing said.

Speculation as to whether Task Force members will attend a called meeting at 10 a.m. May 4 at Mississippi Power was also raised Friday. Rushing did not call or was not advised that the meeting would be called, he said. He indicated the announcement of the meeting was made by Newcomb.

United Fund Receives Senior Volunteer Money

Paul R. Jones, ACTION Director for the Southern Region, announced today that a grant of $34,492 has been awarded to the Hancock County United Fund, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi to operate a Retired Senior Volunteer Program.

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), a part of ACTION, the Citizens Service Corps, is a national program to develop significant volunteer service in local communities for men and women, age 60 and over. Established in 1964, the Hancock County United Fund utilizes Volunteers in varied activities, including fund-raising and the Senior Citizens Model Program.

Under direction of Mrs. C.R. Beyer, the agency is located at 410 Carroll Avenue.

This county-wide RSVP project will enable the grantee to place 125 Senior Volunteers in service the first year, and as many as 400 in the next five. More than 15 percent of Hancock County is age 60 or over.

The RSVP Program will place volunteers in cooperating public and private social agencies throughout the county. Senior Volunteers may serve in a hospital, nursing home, school for the mentally retarded and libraries.

Volunteers may also be placed with adult education classes of the American Association of Retired People (AARP) and the county welfare department.

This grant is a result of President Nixon's request to Congress last fall, following the White House Conference on the Aging, to greatly expand opportunities for meaningful volunteer service for older Americans.

RSVP was started in 1969 by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and became operational in July, 1971, when it became part of ACTION.

RSVP is planned, organized and operated on the local level. It is developed under the auspices of an established community-service organization or agency. Any retired person age 60 and over can become a RSVP Volunteer; there are no education, income or experience requirements.

Volunteers serve in a variety of organizations, agencies and institutions such as courts, schools, libraries, day care centers, hospitals, nursing homes, scout offices, economic development agencies and other community service centers.

Rebuilding Begins In Managua

Comparison Made Between Gulf Coast And Nicaragua

(Editor's note: William G. Gaudet, editor of Latin American Report Newsletter and Latin American Report magazine from 1946 to 1970 has traveled throughout the Americas extensively and knows the countries intimately, with particular emphasis on Central America. He has been in Nicaragua and the Nicaraguans before the earthquake of December 23, 1972. A resident of Waveland, he lived through Camille, which was one of the greatest hurricanes ever to strike the United States. His own home was totally destroyed, so he knows full well what rehabilitation means for the survivors, materially and mentally. This then, is a personal, human evaluation of that terrible night in Managua, what the present is, and what now faces the survivors. This is the first of a series.)

By William G. Gaudet
Managua, Nicaragua—Waste no compassion on the thousands who died in the midnight hours of Dec. 23 in Managua when two severe earthquakes ravaged the capital city of Nicaragua. Instead save your compassion for the thousands who somehow managed to survive.

For the dead, and thousands of them are buried deep beneath the rubble which once were houses and buildings, the problems are over.

For the living, the haunting memories of the terrors of that night cannot be discarded so lightly or so quickly.

This is the way it was for the survivors of Hurricane Camille and this is the way it is for the Nicaraguan survivors. The dark hours for both were filled with terror and fear, never knowing what the next second would bring.

Then, by the small beginning of light by dawn, they try in a few moments to truly comprehend exactly what has happened.

For many survivors, the figure will run into thousands. It is simply impossible for them to believe just what has happened to them is really true. This is the actual beginning of shock which passes away quickly for a lucky few, but lingers on days, weeks, months and years for others.

The great problem for the survivors is that at one and the same time they are confronted with the past, the present and the future. Adjustment is not easy, even for the bravest and the strongest.

Even the screams of misery and anguish of the injured, calling for help, do not make them understand. But they do help, and do their best to give aid to those less fortunate. Yet they do it automatically, not because they are actually aware that this is what they should do.

Persons who have never experienced such great tragedies have difficulty in understanding how these survivors feel. Even the survivors themselves do not know, and reality is something most difficult to grasp because what has happened simply cannot be real. Hard indeed is it to accept that all the material things a person has taken a lifetime to accumulate can be totally and completely destroyed in a matter of moments by the great force of nature gone berserk.

In terms of dollars, the material damage of Camille, running into the billions of dollars and spread out over such a large area, was far greater than the earthquake which leveled the heart of Managua.

In terms of lives lost, Managua was far more destructive—and guesses, and they are only guesses, range anywhere from 5,000 to 15,000 and even higher. It could have been worse in terms of death if the first earthquake had had both a horizontal and vertical motion at the same time.

The first quake had a horizontal movement which lasted for perhaps eight, ten or twelve seconds. Then silence and Managuans by the hundreds fled from cracked homes and buildings. Then minutes later came the second quake with the intense vertical movement and this is when the greatest damage occurred. All who fled to the streets were not saved as walls collapsed on some, but thousands of others simply were hurled about—10, 15, 30 feet.

One Florida contractor and his wife took their dog and fled from their third floor apartment. Some of the local help stayed behind and were crushed as the fourth and third floors fell.

It was after this that the fires began and mass flight from Managua began. The tremors made no distinction between rich and poor, although more poorer persons were killed. This was because the quakes' greatest intensity was concentrated in the downtown business section where thousands of Managua's poor lived.

At the Embassy residence, located on a hill outside Managua proper, U.S. Ambassador Turner B. Shelton and his wife had just returned from a Christmas party when the first quake struck. Books, chairs, fixtures and the like were hurled about as the residence shook, but was strong enough not to suffer any extensive damage.

All electricity was gone, but with the aid of a flashlight, Ambassador Shelton made his way to the emergency generator and fortunately it worked. The emergency shortwave radio set-up also worked and the Ambassador called for all personnel to meet at the Embassy. The embassy office compound and apartments for personnel were not so fortunate as the Embassy.

In the apartment section, the Ambassador's personal secretary was crushed to death, but a female friend was still alive although pinned beneath the rubble. With help from the Guardia Nacional she was removed from the debris and in time sent to a hospital in Panama and then to the United States.

The Casa Presidencial suffered very severe damage, but El Rincón, the home of General Somoza, sustained little damage and the Ambassador was able to make radio contact with him. This is when the Ambassador sent the appeal for help to the United States and other nations and made it possible for U.S. Air Force planes to leave Panama and the United States in the early hours of December 24 with food, water, medical supplies, nurses and doctors.

That is the factual side of that night of horrors, but it does not tell the complete story of what had happened. Chile and Peru have had greater earthquakes and more people have been killed—but most of these took place in outlying districts.

In the case of the Managua earthquake, the government of an entire nation was paralyzed. All ministries were located in Managua, all banks, foreign and local, the principal retail commercial outlets were located in Managua, and all have been leveled.

Thus the road back is not going to be easy, nor will it be done overnight. It will require five, ten or perhaps even more years to rebuild that which took generations to construct. And even then, much of what once was, never will be again. New and more modern houses and buildings can be built, but there is no way for happy memories of the past to be fused into these structures.

If handled properly, a new spirit, a new dedication could evolve over the undisputed fact that man needs his neighbor and no man can stand alone—that all of us, rich and poor, strong and weak, need our neighbor.

(Next week—the long, slow process of rebuilding.)

This is all that now remains of the U.S. Embassy Chancery. There will be no rebuilding here. A new one has already been started on the outskirts near the U.S. Embassy residence.

YOU KNOW WHAT YOU HAD.
YOU KNOW WHAT YOU HAVE.

If You Desire A Better City
Vote O.J. "Jim" McArthur
On May 8th

(Paid for by Youth for Better Government)

Dear Citizen,

The following are the duties of the Commissioner Post No. 2 as prescribed by law: Tax collector, water rent collector, gas collector, assessor, collector of pound fees and all miscellaneous collections, and superintendent of cemeteries, and shall be vested with all the duties pertaining to said functions.

Four years ago, you the voters of Bay St. Louis, "hired" me to perform the above mentioned functions. As your representative, I have attended all City meetings, except when sick or out of town. I have also attended over seven hundred other meetings representing you on the local, area, State and National level. I have made good personal friendships with people in positions of authority, which have helped us in the past and certainly will continue to do so in the future. I feel I know my community and what it can afford. I do not feel at this time that we can take on large capital improvement programs when we do not have a strong economic base to sustain them.

Under the direct supervision of Mr. Felix Seeger, the City cemetery is looking better than ever before.

As the collector of all revenues for the City of Bay St. Louis, I am also personally responsible for the deposit and proper recording of all collections. In the past four years, we have been able to account for every penny collected and have been favorably audited by the C.P.A. firm of Moore and Powell.

The actions of the office of Tax Assessor-Collector are all governed by State Law. The person in this office is subject to heavy fines and imprisonment if he is found not to be in compliance with the law. The job of collecting taxes is not the most rewarding job in government simply because no one "likes" to pay taxes. I feel that my staff and I have attempted to create an cordial and businesslike atmosphere as possible.

When casting your ballot for the candidate of your choice for Commissioner of Post No. 2, know your candidate, but equally important is to know his responsibilities and where his area of authority in local government lies.

The following are the qualifications I offer for Post No. 2:

Lifelong resident of Bay St. Louis.

Graduate of St. Stanislaus and three years of college at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Six and one-half years military service (four years active, 28 months in Europe).

Eleven years successful business experience.

Past President Bay Jaycees.

Past Treasurer and Board of Directors of Chamber of Commerce.

Past President St. Stanislaus Sideline Club.

Past President Hancock County Alumni Association of Southern Mississippi.

Board of Directors Little Theater.

Selected one of the Outstanding Young men of America in 1969 and 1970.

Awarded the Distinguished Service Award for Hancock County in 1964.

Presently serving as Secretary and Treasurer to the Gulf Coast Municipal Officers Association.

Presently co-writing and editing a Handbook in cooperation with Mississippi State University for the State Association of Municipal Clerks, Tax Assessors-Collectors.

A lifelong member of Our Lady of Gulf Catholic Church.

Married to the former Jean Higgins and the father of Angeliqne, Andre, Jr., and Sean Arceneaux.

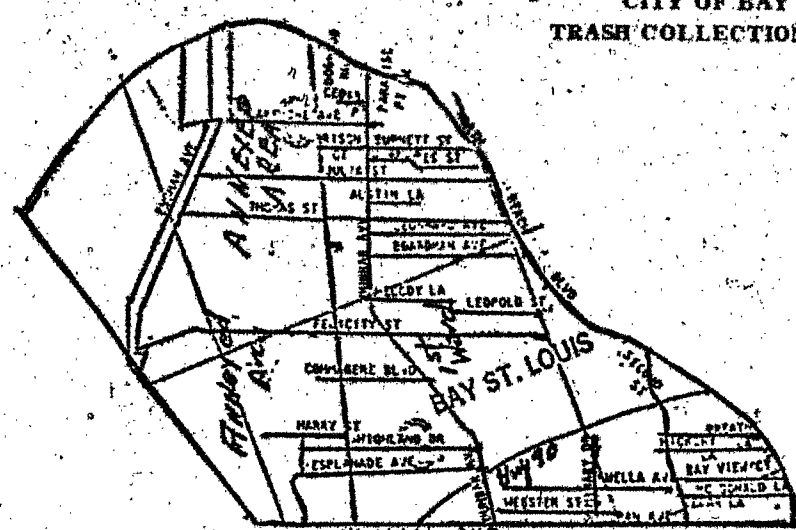

For the past four years, I have been the Commissioner of Post No. 2. If you feel I have done my job, WHY . . .

I WANT TO SERVE YOU, the people of Bay St. Louis, as Commissioner Post 2 and help solve some of the many problems facing our community.

Bay St. Louis has failed to grow and prosper in recent years. Hurricane Camille dealt a serious blow to our fair city. But we must not blame Camille for all of our problems.

Our streets and roads are in terrible shape causing severe problems for local residents and tourists as well. With each rain storm we feel the effects of our inadequate drainage system. Downtown Bay St. Louis has rapidly declined in recent years, with more and more businesses relocating on the Highway.

The promises made to the residents of the annexed areas of the city have not been fulfilled. Their increased taxes seem to have bought only politicians' promises rather than much needed services. This is surely not fair.

It is time we do something to solve our many problems. We need young, new progressive leadership. Help elect me YOUR Commissioner, and I will do all that I can to provide that leadership.

TOGETHER WE CAN BUILD Bay St. Louis into the type of community that we can be truly proud to call home — a community that can grow and prosper — a fine community in which to live and work.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

Things are getting better each day. No rain for the past week. The water in most streams in clear and fish are beginning to hit, especially fresh water fish. Bass and perch are being caught on the fly rod and casting rods with both under water baits and surface baits.

Hard crabs have been caught down Bayou Caddy way, along the seawall. Among those catching them was Ciois Deleaux who got about 5 dozen one day last week.

Frogging is also good. Anthony Milton, Mike and Pat Green caught 37 nice size bullfrogs in a local lake one night last week.

No hope on soft shell crabs being gotten as yet. Saw a couple lights out from the other night. Warm days should bring them in the low tides should be the answer to some good soft crabbing soon.

The 4-Ball Golf Tournament held Sunday, April 28th at Pass Christian Isles golf course was a very pleasant affair followed by a live Maine Lobster Dinner. Players picked their own partners. 1st place winners were Shelby Balus, Gloria Hymel, Sidney Prague and Jean Stanton.

Winners in second place wound up in two teams in a tie. Moe Hymel, Chevy Pugh, Joe Coco and Forest Nelson. The other team consisted of Glenn Young, Frank Ceflau, Chas. Donlin, and Bonnie Laker.

The tourney was held under the direction of Phil Peer, the new pro, who has the course in excellent shape and who is doing a good job as pro.

Others playing golf Sunday was a match including Dec Elliott and two sons, Russell and Luke, Sheldon Seuzeneau and Jack Sotak. It was a hotly contested match with Russell and Sheldon being the winners. Yours Truly (the old man) was just playing.

Among those who play regularly are Emile Willis and wife Thelma, Stanley Wagner and wife, Ken Waltman, Shelby Tucker, Ludie Gunther, Nora Spence and Cary, Nobby Watson and others. Many of these own homes bordering the course and are old-time members of the club.

S.F. Michell celebrated his 72nd birthday this week enjoying a birthday party given by Mr. and Mrs. S.F. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. M. Schuler, and Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Luke of Jefferson Parish. These folks all enjoy fishing, crabbing, etc.

There is a new fish market and tackle shop which recently opened on Highway 90 with all types of baits, fishing equipment and seafood for sale. It is the E & L Bait and tackle shop this side of the Kiln Road.

Flying to Lake Domingues, Old Mexico recently and enjoying a real fishing trip were John Ristoph, Luke Elliott, Norris Davidson, Steve Strut and Pat Mochelle. It was a thrill and for those who like to catch big bass (green trout) the party caught nothing but whoppers. Anything under 3 pounds were thrown back. What fisherman wouldn't enjoy a trip there. Luke gave us the dope and he doesn't lie. He said they did a little hunting, too.

Plans have been completed

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK Buck Creel likes to catch fish and crabs off the seawall down Cedar Point way. He and his wife go whenever they can. Buck gives us some interesting stories about catching them.

by the Sidelines Club for its fair to be held on May 5 and 6th. The kids can fish in the fish pond and have a lot of fun.

J. Burton Angelle, director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, today urged residents of Louisiana where rising waters are affecting wildlife not to "play with" wild animals.

"All forms of wildlife are being put at a disadvantage due to the high waters," the director said, "and they are being forced to leave natural habitat and find higher ground. Unfortunately, the higher ground in most cases is also occupied by men, women, and children who are intrigued by the sight of the animal-and who attempt to handle it in some manner or another."

"We ask that you not confront these wildlife forms and make no attempt to 'play' with them. Most are scared and panicky and are subject to bite easily. For your own safety and for consideration of the wildlife, leave every wild animal alone."

This also applies in Mississippi wherever there is high water. Don't kill them either. Let's protect our game. Be a good sport.

The director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Com. also announced today that after commission board action and lengthy discussion, the commission set the opening of the 1973 shrimp season for May 25th to run 60 consecutive days. And end at midnight July 23rd.

Angelle additionally noted that all commercial shrimpers, in order to beat a last-minute rush, are urged to buy licenses as early as possible. A number of our Shrimpers shrimp in Louisiana and will be glad to hear this news. Maybe the price of shrimp will come down a little and they might be easier to purchase.

Perch are still being caught on worms. Yours Truly and Ray Garner caught around 60 the other day. Nice size, too.

Blackberries are every where right now along the highways, on the banks of bayous and in fields hereabout. Make up a party and go after them. All that is needed to get them is a strong back and a weak mind. Watch out for snakes while picking them. Carry a stick and part the bushes before reaching for the berries.

Day light saving time started Sunday. All fishermen like it but most wives complain about being in the kitchen, so late.

If you want to catch perch with worms a good place is up Jourdan river above the bridge on the Kiln Road at the old McLeod Turpentine still. Go above the bridge and fish between the lily pads and the bank. There is a landing ramp by the bridge.

If you have a longing for eating crayfish they can be gotten at Laidner's Fish Market by the sack, either raw or boiled. Better still make up a party and go crayfishing. It's fun.

Rebels Slip Past Tigers

Saturday afternoon at Thompson Field in Biloxi it took the Notre Dame Rebels eight innings to defeat the Bay High Tigers by the score of 5-4. With a runner on in the bottom of the eighth inning, Pat Lyons of Notre Dame came up to the plate and hit a single into left field to drive in the winning run.

Mike Viator, who relieved starting pitcher Bob Ladner in the seventh inning gained the victory for the Rebels. The two pitchers combined for four strikeouts and five walks. Leslie Elison went all the way on the mound for the Tigers and was charged with the loss.

BWYC Backwash

Eliminations were held Sunday, April 29, at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club to determine which Expert skipper would represent BWYC in the Mallory competition for the North American Sailing Championship.

Pete Morrill, race committee chairman, assisted by Ray Stieffel, conducted a three race Round Robin series among Don Chamberlain, Chuck Breath and Woody Stieffel. Stieffel won the first race with Chamberlain second and Breath third, but the order was reversed for the second race as Breath crossed the line ahead of Chamberlain and Stieffel.

The third race saw some close competition all the way to the finish line, with the result of the last race being the same as the over-all position. Stieffel, first; Chamberlain, second and Breath, third.

The next step in the Series will be at New Orleans Yacht Club where Stieffel will compete in Flying Scots against Yacht Clubs in the Western District of Gulf Yachting Association.

At 1:00 p.m. Saturday, May 5, members of Pass Christian Yacht Club will join BWYC crews for the annual Jordan River race from the front of BWYC to I-10 bridge and back to finish in front of the Club.

Buzzy Heausler will enter the first step of the Sears competition for the North American Junior Sailing Championship May 5 and 6 at New Orleans Yacht Club. He will be sailing a Round Robin Series in Flying Scots with Chris Stieffel and Bubby Eagan as his crew.

The annual cruise to Cat Island has been scheduled for the weekend of June 2-3. Departure time will be 9 a.m. Saturday from Bay-Waveland Yacht Club harbor and Rendezvous at Snuggler's Cove to spend the night after a steak barbecue on the beach.

Norbert Carnovale, assistant professor of music education at the University of Southern Mississippi, will be the guest conductor. David LaBat will present a modern drum solo, and Ed Picard as student conductor will direct the band for one number. The St. Stanislaus Choral Group, under the direction of Brother Pierre, will present several renditions.

The following awards will be given at the concert: the John Philip Sousa Award, the Outstanding Upperclassman Award, the Outstanding First Year Member Award, the Most Improved Musician Award, the Outstanding Section Award, and the Outstanding Marching Band Member Award.

The St. Stanislaus Concert Band is under the direction of H. Davis Williams, and the band moderator at St. Stanislaus is Brother Anton Sokira.

FIELD TRIP

Our Lady of the Gulf Sixty Graders will make a field trip to Flint Creek Water Park, Tuesday, May 8. Students will leave O.L.G. at 9 a.m. and return at 3:30 p.m.

spent the afternoon making flower arrangements and birthday cakes for senior citizens. The next meeting will be at 3 p.m., May 10.

TO THE VOTERS OF BAY ST. LOUIS

An individual elected to a political office is the recipient of a public trust. A compliment has been paid to him by a majority of the people making up the community in which he lives. This official should, therefore, never violate that trust, never be so insensitive as to fail those who placed their confidence in him.

I have during the past four years made a sincere effort not to betray the trust bestowed upon me and I will continue to live up to that trust during the next four years if I am re-elected.

During the past four years:

1. I have tried to bring the benefits of a civil service program to city employees and this, I hope, will be an accomplishment within the next few weeks;
2. The city's fire department—with new money furnished by a recent act of the State Legislature—is now up-graded by the addition of up-to-date equipment and increased personnel;
3. The city's regular police and auxiliary unit have attended training schools and classes whenever an opportunity presented itself;
4. Improved the lot of the city employee by providing vacations and better working conditions;
5. The appearance of our community has been greatly improved over what it was four years ago due to the addition of a new city Department of Public Grounds and with much credit being given to a group of dedicated Bay St. Louis ladies;
6. Every bit of cooperation has been given to the Senior Citizens Program with a view towards making this program a permanent operation within the community; and
7. Economy in the handling of public funds has always been of importance to me. Public money should be spent with more care and discretion than one's own private funds.

I sincerely ask for your vote on May 8, 1973. It will be most appreciated.
